Part 6 ~ Fulfilling the Covenant and Future Being

From Encounters with Babaji, by Renata Caddy

"To live in TRUTH, SIMPLICITY and LOVE, is the highest duty of man.
Since all religions lead to God,
follow the religion of your heart.
Service to mankind is service to God, is worship of God.
Love and serve others as you love and serve me.
I myself have come to help all beings, to serve all beings.
Everyone should see himself/herself as a humble servant of other people, of the earth, of the world."

As you have heard me state before, we stand on the brink of major change on the planet. This is not just a planetary occurrence; what is unfolding at present affects the whole of creation. Apparently the entire 'company of heaven' is focused on this planet because it is where the greatest chaos has concentrated. I believe the A-bomb was the major catalyst for this, where the inviolability of the atom was breeched and all manner of opposition to God was able to infiltrate in new ways. And we are at a time where things cannot go further in the direction of chaos, and a new order must become established. The question is how and to what degree can creation be lifted up into this new order.

At this time the most important focus for each individual is to come to know God within, so that what the spirit realms have prepared by way of support in these times may be embodied. The spiritual support and power to reorder this realm must be wielded through incarnated beings, and the support cannot come in unless it is petitioned from the level where the help is needed.

There is a specific manner in which to know God at this particular time in evolution. In ancient times when nature was ensouled, knowing God was about obedience to spiritual law. I have alluded to how we have changed over our evolution and will not go into that here, but will focus on what needs to transpire within individual human beings.

At this time, the soul of nature has withdrawn into the darkness that we have allowed to overtake our bodies and dim our minds, and the path is not through obedience to specific law but rather to establishing freedom and sovereignty within so that we may recover the soul of the world without. We must seek for the spirit in nature, for the soul of the world, and for divinity in others so that we may re-member the separated selves into a whole and dignified humanity. So long as we have inequity and basic human rights are not met, we have forgotten who we are. We must become the vehicles into which Father and Mother God may find union and in this will the original covenant between God and man be fulfilled. When that covenant is fulfilled, we will have embodied in consciousness the new creation that will then unfold in our world.

As I was preparing this material with the intention of supporting everyone to connect with the new future that is moving in as potential, I was struck with the clear understanding of how to achieve this union, and it brought everything together into a coherent whole. It is hard to know how to start, because the topic is so big...but I will start by jumping into the core of the matter...

* * * * *

The new future is one wherein we must embody solutions for the world that bear the quality of infinity—infinite abundance, prosperity, resources for ALL, love, justice, genius, beauty, goodness, increase of life, etc. Each human being has a birthright to the abundant resources of this realm, to know themselves as love, and to know their meaning to creation. The solutions to ensuring these rights for all will not come from plans devised by thinking separated minds, but rather from spiritual revelation in those surrendered to selflessness. Those who love the world but need nothing from it will tap into the higher resolutions that will reorder our world. And all who are striving toward this will be so inspired. The causal realm is rife with spiritual imaginations ready to become embodied, and there is great opposition to having this come to pass, with a very powerful barrier to spirit at the astral level that is filled with fearful thought. You have been guided through this program to deepen within, emancipate from fear and the lower false self, awaken the senses as spiritual faculties of cognition, and activate the Trinity powers so that you may access the deeper realms of spirit. This section takes things to a very practical level, presenting the next step of becoming the ‘light of the world’.

The original covenant with God requires of us an understanding of dwelling in the eternal. Eternity is the continual increase of life through the creation of ever greater light patterns of complexity. Nothing will take root in the new creation that is not steeped in spiritual principle and in support of truth, love, and the increase of life. And the path to achieving this is through devotion (love) to the Father (light/truth) and to the Mother in creation (life/harmony). The power of the Christ lies in its ability to attain to infinity (Father/Light) and eternity (Mother/Life) through the power of love that is the path of our immortality. Immersion in infinity and eternity results in our immortality and the viability of our future.

Simply expressed, the future is one wherein we establish a sustainable and ever greater reality governed by the power of love—this can only occur through the power of the Trinity embodied as living, guiding principles within us. And because the situation is so dire at present, we must do this with our whole being—with body, mind, soul, and spirit.

I will present some context for where we are, through describing the spiritual impulses that are meant to unfold in us at this momentous time.

Throughout the 20th century, the angels have been busy seeding three main spiritual impulses in mankind, in preparation for what is known as the Second Coming, which resulted in the greatest impulse of all time.

Three Impulses Seeded by the Angels in Man's Astral Body from 1900-2000

Steiner describes how in the 1900s all the way leading up to the turn of the millennium, the angels were working to seed three major impulses in man's astral body.¹ The angelic realm has as task to call forth in man ideals for the future. Each of these impulses relates to one of the three dantien centers. These are important ideals to support our ability to birth the Christ impulse at the time of the Second Coming that began in the new millennium.

- 1- Strong impulse toward brotherhood (Gut), such that it becomes impossible to find peace when others are suffering or hurting. This impulse would support the future unification of the human race and become the governing principle of the social conditions in physical existence.
- 2- Recognition of the hidden divinity in each other (Heart), so that interaction becomes a sacred rite...a sharing or communion of souls. This would lead to the realization that every man is made in the likeness of the Godhead, and would do away with religion coercion and honor truth as expressed through each individual.
- 3- Ability to reach Spirit through thinking (Head), so that thinking as an act of will, is able to penetrate deeply into matter to the point that spirit is revealed. This supports man to come to know spirit in wide-awake consciousness to an increasing degree.

With these impulses, we would naturally become more inclined to a spiritual orientation in life, spirituality would guide intellectual activity—changing medicine, science, education, etc.—, and all arenas of life would support brotherhood and unification.

But many people were not in sync with the evolutionary trends during the 20th century, and so these impulses were not taken in rightly. They were intended to enter the astral body, and they would have, had human beings been more harmonized in astral consciousness to receive them. For many who were 'asleep' and strongly caught in egotism, the impulses entered into the subconscious—in the etheric body to varying degrees— where they acted in a devolutionary rather than an evolutionary manner.

Distortion to the first impulse of 'brotherhood' becomes exploitation of others through degraded sexual relationship (e.g. sex buddies among teens, sexual perversion, child abduction and prostitution, etc). In the second case, rather than honoring the divinity in others, people seek to destroy it through destroying the 'temple'—with misuse of medication that damages health and causing illness for the purpose of profiting from it. In the third impulse, rather than knowledge of the spiritual being used to support spiritualization of life and wakefulness, it is misused to dominate outer life (weather patterns), enslave people, and control their minds (computer technology, manipulation of airwaves (HAARP), nuclear energy explosion test sites for reasons not revealed). We are witnessing distortions of these impulses very clearly these days.

For years I questioned, “Why didn’t the angels see this and just back off...or make it right?” Now I understand that ‘backing off’ meant forgoing the plan of human evolution; and ‘making it right’ would have violated our free will (again foregoing the evolutionary plan). So things had to proceed indiscriminately, and all attempts were made to have humanity take up the impulses rightly.

It is therefore incumbent upon those who are waking up to express the positive of these impulses consciously in life. You can immerse in these impulses in contemplation, and deepen their expression through cultivating new habits as suggested throughout this program and particularly with the section on awakening the senses. Positive habits have the power to transform you. They are likened to software programs that run on a computer, but in this case the software has the power to transform the hardware they run on, as is evidenced by our senses changing us hormonally.

Do not despair of what you see in the world. Know that the power of the Trinity embodied can be tremendous. We just have our work cut out admittedly; however never has there been such a time of opportunity to have greater impact and power! The intense energies infusing the world increase the transmission power of your thoughts. When you conscientiously put them in service to spirit, they will increasingly have significant impact.

The Second Coming

The Second Coming is marked by the descent of the Christ in the etheric body of the earth. At the deed two thousand years ago, the Christ united his physical body with the body of the planet, and now the Christ has united his etheric body with the planet’s etheric body.

At the ‘death’, the Christ descended into the inner sublayers of the earth—into ‘hell’, if you will—that held all the disowned and unresolved miscreations from all of humanity through the ages, augmented by the workings of chaos that were attracted to these powerful negative emanations. And he seeded within the bowels of the earth a ‘light’—a virginal substance that would enable it to lift out from under the burden of ‘hell’ upon His return (etherically). This substance was seeded in every human being when it was seeded in the body of the earth. It is an etheric substance that has the power to wrest our bodies from the grips of materialism and egotism that is quickened through love and morality—both powers of the etheric body.

The entire program has focused on enlivening the etheric body—from deepening self, clearing the past, using the power of memory, awakening the senses to activate the endocrine system, etc.—so that we can support the re-emergence of the Divine Feminine in the world, which is the present-day task of the Christ mission.

The hallmark of the Christ mission on earth is brotherhood and selfless service in devotion to uniting the whole of humanity and elevating it to a higher order of being. This was the intended evolutionary plan for this time, where the Christ impulse would begin to awaken in humanity. What was not foreseen, however, was the depth of chaos that entered in the vibrational realm (largely from the A-bomb). As a result, those who can need to accelerate in the Christ impulse.

The harmony of our planet impacts on the harmony throughout creation, and its current disharmonious state is wreaking havoc. It is difficult to fathom the gravity of the times and the profound work that we are able to participate in at this time. Every realm in creation is focused on what we will accomplish in the next several years, and the outcome depends on incarnated souls doing their part. Not only are they watching with bated breath, but also they are doing all that they can to support us. We chose to be here at this critical time and we all have some level of understanding of the enormity of the situation. Take that in deeply and allow yourself to be moved to devotional service in whatever way makes sense in your life and to the degree that you can.

All intelligence across the universe wants to participate in restoring harmony in creation, but they can only do so through incarnated souls—you have to be embodied on the planet to bring in the solutions for positive outcomes. You are here in a body and are striving for awakening, deeper connection, and meaning—open to greatest expansion as your soul moves you! You may feel small and powerless in face of all the dysfunction around you, but the power of the divine from your god nature knows no bounds. You don't have to figure anything out...just empty yourself of the lower nature, create a sanctuary of harmony and peace within, and ask for greatest support to move courageously forward as your soul intended. Be prepared to start from where you are. You don't have to change your outer life; you must change your inner being. Become harmonious at all times, become still at all times, and be receptive to sensing spiritual impulse. When we lead with inspired impulse rather than action that comes from the thinking mind, we operate in the eternal with infinite power. We don't need years and years to undo the travesties; we can reorder things in a holy instant. I believe that the next five years will be the most challenging and will have the greatest impact on our collective future.

The planetary body is seeking to ascend to a higher vibration now, and we can assist through supporting the recovery of the Divine Feminine in the world. It is time to reawaken the spirit of the planet—the Great Mother—, and allow Her to take up her rightful place in the realm of nature. Our soul evolution depends on the planet's health, and if we ruin our planet we lose the incarnational realm for soul growth. Steiner says that we are like the fingers on the body that is the planet—we believe ourselves to be separate but just as a finger cannot live apart from the body to which it belongs, so it is with our bodies.

Through honoring the great ecosystem and all sentient life, supporting the increase of life through the expression of our light in the world, and seeking spirit in the world around us, we energize the Great Mother to her rightful place. More is said on awakening the Divine Feminine in the section on Will-Yoga, below.

Spend time contemplating on the virtues of the Trinity and how they might be expressed in life. This will evolve you on all levels in subtle and profound ways over time. Contemplating on virtues creates the space within for the spiritual Beings whose nature is those virtues, to merge into you and weave in their gifts. Remember that you emerged from the cosmos...from the very substance of these mighty Beings, and you may wield their powers through your awakened consciousness. You are Child of the Cosmos—lovingly held within its embrace and all Beings are eager to pour in all manner of powers and capacities in you. And in this hour there is great need for those who can to vision a higher future, and you will be assisted as you open up through seeking to embody divine virtue. Methods do to this are given in the exercises for part 6 (see the audio of Trinity affirmations for the virtues). Make this part of your spiritual practice from now on.

As mentioned in section 4, our senses capture all the main ‘categories’ of cosmic Beings—we emerged out of this twelvefoldness (Zodiac) and have the sense faculties to behold and work with these Beings. Occultly, twelve is the number of space, and so our evolution into cosmic being takes place in space. The number seven represents time, and seven signs represent the part of the cosmos that has been challenged by duality. Steiner explains how five categories of beings are untouched by duality—they have never experienced anything outside of God—, and these represent the lowest nature of the macrocosmic Christ who is a mighty Being that has never experienced duality until the time of His incarnation in the flesh (in the life of JC). Through his God-power, He transmuted all duality within the seven lower substances of the human being, and this was seeded as the great Christ impulse within each of us. We have the power to transcend all duality, and as we do this, we support the transcendence cosmically as well. It is time that increasing numbers of individuals understand the deeper occult truths, so that they may participate in conscious evolution at this momentous time. And though what we face may seem daunting, we are not alone! We have but to create the space within us for these might Light Beings to work co-creatively with us.

Through our striving for true solutions to what we face, through our steadfast visions of what may be possible, through training our minds to become still and our hearts to become peaceful and open, through our willingness to act with courage on all spiritual impulse regardless of personal doubt or fear, we will become powerful agents of change now and in the years to come. Be infinitely patient with yourself, yet uncompromising and firm in your quest to awaken, and you will capture the attention of the Beings of Light who are seeking those who can be inspired into. There is no limit to what you can dream and the power you may 'grow into' in these times.

The Original Covenant

“Poverty is the worst kind of violence.”
Gandhi

We were given life to utilize it to create and grow in power and awareness, and for our part we were to send our gift back to Father and Mother God by way of being a light in the world—filled with joy and gladness of heart and expanding creation to ever greater light patterns of complexity. In this manner, our light would keep increasing and creation would keep expanding through us. We were created out of the cosmos, for the cosmos.

The original covenant was that Father/Mother God would give us life force, direct the elemental kingdom—the divine intelligent nature kingdom—to provide all of our needs to sustain our earthly bodies, and provide direct angelic support to guide us on the right path. For our part we would utilize the nature kingdoms to sustain ourselves in health and evolve our bodies, and would take the gift of life and learn to create greater patterns of perfection to add to the light of the world. We were to expand creation to ever greater beauty, goodness, and love. The nature kingdoms would evolve under our wise governance, the planetary body would evolve in seeking to support our expansion, the angels would rise to archangelic ranks as we ascended to our Higher Self nature, the higher realms would be nourished and enriched from what we added from our unique perspectives, and all would be served to ever greatness. But we lost the awareness of this covenant, and through increasing egotism and materialism we no longer reciprocated for the gift of life, no longer supported one another toward collective evolution, and we lost our connection to our essence as love.

As we devolved and our bodies became denser, the angelic realm was less and less able to reach us and the spiritual impulses that they attempted to seed entered wrongly in many, seeding impulses that had the opposite effect to quicken devolution rather than forward evolution.

This state has caused tremendous damage and is still causing significant disharmony throughout creation that is now unsustainable. Up to now, all was being done to support a reversal of momentum from falling further into materialism to moving to spirit in freedom, and nothing more is possible except to play things out according to the awakening of individuals. Direct intervention from 'outside' is not possible as everything has been 'poured into' our being. In other words, we have the power...we have been served and the ball is in our court, so to speak. We must now fulfill our part of the covenant if we are to receive from God.

It is not that God is withholding anything from us—God is accessible within us so absolutely everything has been given to us! Spirit's part of the covenant cannot be fulfilled unless we also fulfil ours, because both aspects of the covenant are simultaneous. Giving and receiving are an inseparable deed! We cannot receive the Kingdom unless we are light-filled, because the nature of the Kingdom is light. God cannot be 'conscious Presence' in us, if we are not harmonious within, because God IS HARMONY. So long as we are fragmented into separate parts, so long as we have thoughts and feelings that pull us into separation, our god nature cannot emerge consciously in us. It is so important to understand this! If you have unrest, discontent, despair, egotism, and so forth, you are like a dam that is waiting for the river of spiritual abundance to flow through—it simply won't happen.

"Seek harmony in everything that you do. I am harmony.
If you are in peace, so am I.
If you are troubled, so am I.
If you are happy, so am I.
Be happy!
I am you.
Have faith, everything depends on faith.
Always carry the name of God in yourself."²

If we remain in darkened consciousness, we cannot flow our light into the world and thus have no room to receive the Kingdom that is our birthright. As spirit, giving and receiving are simultaneous and seamless, and if we cannot receive, then God cannot give. What God gives that is not received falls to degenerative forces. Just as we saw with the beautiful angelic seed-impulses—what was not received became a force of devolution. It is an occult fact that what does not move in sync with evolution is part of the forces of devolution—according to Steiner, this is the true definition of evil.

The Kingdom has been granted to us; the means for all of our needs to be met are in place so that we can get on with the task of deepening our awakening and expressing ever greater creative potential. Yet, the functional world is one of inequity, limitation, lack, and poverty consciousness. Man has 'inverted' divine abundance into something that only deepens debt—both physically and spiritually. The world is near bankruptcy physically and spiritually, because humanity believes in false limitation and has poured all of its energy into securing externally what can only be unleashed in the outer world through inner alignment and expression of one's value and appreciation of value in others. This will be fully discussed, below; suffice it to say at this point that the state of poverty and limitation is the clearest example of the 'anti-covenant' ... or 'covenant with chaos' that most are tied into.

In the chaos-covenant, we energize worry, fear, lack, greed, and competition, and we constrain ourselves to conditions and people having power over us. We falsely engage the world as though it has the power to create our reality, and we generate our lives from the small mind that is fettered to unconscious reaction. So long as we do this, we are under the spell of the 'lords of fear and chaos'. We must break the spell through increasing clarity and understanding that there is no power that can oppose the power of God within.

We must energize harmony, love, stillness, peace, faith, certainty, and cooperation, and expand into allowing limitless infinite potential to emerge from the depth of our being. As we attain to this state of being, we will be a light unto the world and have dominion over our world, and the infinite riches of the Kingdom will be outpictured all around us. This is what Gandhi achieved in his lifetime—through the understanding that he must become the change he sought...that truth is God and that only in alignment with impeccable and forceful truth and selflessness is the power of God possible, he changed the future of India and left the world with a legacy of peace through non-violence.

Spiritual Latency in the Heavenly Realms

“I have come to give, only to give, but who is able to receive what I really have to give?”
From Encounters with Babaji³

Father and Mother God cannot fulfil their covenant unless there are incarnated beings who can receive—receiving brings the covenant to fulfilment, as receiving is the act of fulfilling. Without receiving, the supreme gift to the human being is mere potentiality. Just as a the human ovum will not be fulfilled into new life until it receives the activating impetus of life from the sperm, we have the body to receive the activating impetus from God that can only fulfil as regenerative force when we receive it. The ovum without the sperm as impetus does not generate new life. So long as we do not receive and emerge the Kingdom from within, God remains in latency in this realm! The time is now or never to wake up and allow the egg to be inseminated. Gestation, birth and emergence into Child of God will happen very quickly once we allow this to unfold. And though it will be a glorious process, the path is not without sacrifice, great effort, courage, vision, and strength to manifest that vision. It takes courage to walk against the collective current...to stand apart and for something that threatens to unmask the lies that the world lives by. The way is through steadfast focus on the vision...and on the power of God within.

“The quickest way to realize God is the continuous repetition of His name. By the repetition of the names of God, the human mind is cleansed. This is the only remedy for the sickness of the mind. If your mind and heart are not pure, how can God live there? The water to cleanse your heart is the name of God. Everyone should repeat God's name, everywhere in the world.”

Babaji, from Encounters with Babaji

At this time in evolution, receiving the Kingdom and fulfilling the covenant in order to allow God to flourish in this realm happens through remembering the Great Mother in the world around us. All three angelic impulses that were seeded in the human being are powers to awaken the Divine Feminine. This alone can revitalise the womb of creation as planet and individual body into which God may live. The Father principle is revealed in all that bears infinity at its essence and core, and this will flourish in a substance that vibrates with eternal life.

We ‘receive’ as the ‘christed’ soul, recognizing that when “two or three come together in my name, there am I with them”...there is Living Love that is Life. This statement does not speak to a numeric value of two or three people—two is an occult number of relationship...of recognition of ‘other’ as you, and ‘two or three’ or ‘two or more’ speaks to community and the principle of mutuality. This statement pertains directly to the golden rule of “doing unto others as you would have them do unto you”. The deeper significance of this is that ‘other’ is also a separated aspect of the divine, and humanity as a whole cannot evolve into the creator hierarchy of Love and Freedom until and unless all the separated selves have been re-remembered as One (more on this below).

When we gather in community, in two or more, with the intention of serving one another, there incarnates Living Love. The Christ is for All and not a chosen few. When we gather for the purpose of supporting the good of all, there we will find the Christ. Love is the unifying power that consummates the union of Father and Mother principles and creates new ‘complexities of light’ in this realm. Through our unifying, harmonizing love that flows light into the world as regenerative force of life is our covenant with God fulfilled. We may have the Kingdom—we may have it all! But we access it through our willingness and our ability to be the light of the world.

We will explore in detail how to be the light of the world in the monetary system, because when we transform money, the undoing of all other delusions will quickly follow. When we tackle the biggest delusion and source of devolution, everything else will fall into place with little effort.

Bringing back the Mother and World Wisdom (Isis) Through Will-Yoga

Steiner stated that we were entering a time where the new yoga was a ‘will yoga’ (unity with God through will). I did not fully understand this and carried it as a question for years. It has been further clarified as I explored the situation around ‘money’ and how it exists in the world. I saw that the way to elevate it was through entering into a whole new relationship with it—being and doing anew, as one who is master in this realm. Before I describe the money revelation, I will present important ideas about will-yoga.

Will-Yoga – From unconscious to conscious Will

When we are reactive and feel subject to life, we are asleep in our will and are not assuming the freedom and power that is our divine right and responsibility. Union with the divine must be conscious; we are already united with God in the unconscious—for example, a child is immersed in deeper consciousness but it does not have free will and so is not yet in the phase of its soul evolution even if it is with God. Only in striving for ever greater wakefulness do we evolve. Will yoga means to consciously unite and serve the divine with all of our will forces. That is how we learn to be in this world, yet of a spiritual world of higher consciousness. We cannot wield love as a transmutational power unless we are rooted in our deeper self and are free in our will.

Will-yoga is thus about uniting consciously with what was unconscious before...in the deeper mind wherein resides the power of God. We are not united with the divine in our will when we are tied to outcomes and agendas and concerned about the small self over and above others. Attachment to anything outside the true self makes us unfree. We operate as spirit-soul being when we are immersed in deeper being emancipated from anything external to us, and engaged fully in the present moment as a force of love that knows no separation.

Will-yoga is only possible when the will is illuminated. The will forces reside in the body—it is the soul power associated with the physical body—, which relates to the aspect of God as Mother. We can only become conscious in our will by illuminating what has been hidden... by illuminating physical matter, which is the path to recover the Divine Feminine in the world.. In illuminating the deep unconscious we purify the body and wrest it from the forces of mortality, bringing to it the power of regeneration. The Divine Feminine holds the power to raise the body's vibration so that it can operate at a higher order of being that has dominion over the world of matter.

The recovery of the Divine Feminine is the aspect of the Christ mission that is most relevant and critical for our evolution at this time. The three angelic impulses that have been seeded in us are precisely geared to support the recovery of the Divine Feminine through making possible the spiritualization of matter. We are here to spiritualize matter in selfless service to something greater than the small self—to what serves the Self of Humanity as a whole. The impulse to brotherhood such that we are our 'brother's keeper', the ability and impulse to see the divine in another, and the ability and impulse to understand spirit through conscious thought are all powers of will that need to unfold in us now if we are to establish union with God in our will.

The notion that we just have to be 'good' and look after our own salvation no longer applies at this critical time—we either succeed in establishing a collective future of hope, or we will be forced to abandon the grand evolutionary plan that was originally laid out for us. We will succeed through unfolding the Christ impulse in selfless service and awakened consciousness of our interconnectedness and the deeper spiritual reality that underlies all matter.

It should come as no surprise then that many on earth are becoming increasingly dim and their bodies weighed down in density, for when we do not carry out the evolutionary task then we necessarily move into devolution. The path to the light will occur by raising the vibration in the body, and an important aspect of this is through illuminating will. In effect, raising the body's vibration and illuminating the will to greater consciousness occur in tandem. (Raising the vibration of the body will be a major focus of a next RHS program exploring the body systems and how to restore them to purity and light, as the body must be optimized to support higher consciousness.)

Understand that we will never go back into the 'cosmic soup' of Oneness again, because we have an individuated "I" that is self-conscious and has the power of the Christ within it. Heaven is not back to God, but forward to God. There is no turning back; only the path forward in selflessness that leads to individuated god consciousness, or in egotism that leads to separated consciousness that binds itself increasingly to a body of dense matter. The power of our "I" increases as we bring conscious will in thinking and feeling so that we become fully present and intentional in being.

There are two aspects to will yoga for the present time. The first aspect relates directly to the activity of vertical-awaring, and the second pertains to becoming active in the world and gathering as "two or more" so that the presence and power of spirit may act in the world.

First Aspect of Will Yoga ~ Active Perception

The state of the outer world is such that it has lost its spiritual nature to such a degree that if we are unable to bring back perception and reality of spirit in matter, we will fall too deeply into materialism. We are so far into it that we don't even realize how de-natured our bodies are, we don't easily sense the toxicity in the foods that we eat, for example. But even more troubling is the fact that we barely even notice the deception and immoral practices that take place around us in all areas of life.

Steiner says that in ancient times the world was filled with 'soul' that we breathed it in with each inhalation, and nature abounded with elemental spirits. Nowadays, what we breathe is simply air devoid of soul, and much of the elemental realm is subdued or has withdrawn deep into the earth or in pristine regions that have been largely untouched by man.

There is an intimate connection between the moral-spiritual sphere of human evolution and what takes place in nature. And as the soul element has withdrawn from the element of air, a moral-spiritual impulse is no longer intrinsic in the human being. It is now up to us to establish this impulse consciously in perception, so that we can spiritualize the world through our will.

Steiner describes that because the air was ensouled in the distant past, breath-yoga provided a path of enlightenment. But the air is no longer ensouled, and while breathing practices can be invigorating in specific ways, it does not serve as a path of union with the divine (yoga) as it once did. As mentioned, the new yoga of our time is will-yoga, which requires that we attune through perception to the soul-spiritual element in the world. Through wakefulness in the senses, we need to perceive the ruling wisdom-will in the world.

The world of the senses then becomes a “sea of infinitely differentiated will”.⁴ Everything in nature expresses either a ‘coming into being’ or a ‘passing away’ from being. (E.g. the green leaves with sap are coming into being while the bark of the tree is passing away. Our bodily organs are all in either a state of coming into being (evolving) or passing away (i.e. they have passed their zenith of power).) And behind these currents of will is the ruling wisdom of creation, the Divine Feminine, with her wise flows of evolving and dying away. When we understand these currents of wisdom-will in everything, then we will know how to be in harmony with creation and how to support evolution. For example, Waldorf education emerged out of deep awareness of the growing child, and is a most ‘intelligent’ and effective pedagogy. Homeopathy is another example of a methodology based on spiritual understanding of the bodily processes and how to attain to harmony. Modern medicine in general is an example of disregard of the spiritual nature of man.

Death or end of cycle only exists in the physical and to the ordinary senses. In the imaginative world, these alternations are perceived as continual transformation of one thing into another. Everything exists within the great AUM vibration, and when we seek the spiritual in all that is around us, we can actively support the transformations to an ever higher order of being through the power of our love. Goethe expressed that everything of a temporal nature is a metaphor for enduring spirit—in other words, what we see as temporal has permanence or lives on in subtle realms. Our thoughts are astral ‘beings’ for example—and though we may not think the same way as before, those beings may still wreak havoc in the world’s astral layer. Time does not make our miscreations pass into oblivion. We are responsible for our emanations and we must transmute them through clearing and healing our past—not out of fear to assure our ‘salvation’, but rather out of love for all and devotion to the ecosystem that is the Great Mother.

This last point is so important and it will be made whenever appropriate: when we act for the greater good—whether in personal healing, washing the dishes, or performing some altruistic activity, we create an opening for the greater power of living love (the Christ). You may wonder how you can wash the dishes for the greater good, but if you are grumbling about being stuck with the mundane chores and thinking of all the ‘more important’ things you have to do, for example, you can surrender that for the greater good and will yourself to joy in serving with a glad and humble heart...and chant the name of God in your heart. In this manner you are creating a loving and devotional field of interaction that will bless others around you, and you are diminishing your false sense of self-importance.

This process of will-yoga begins when we are attuned to truth and love as active principles of being. Truth enables you to perceive rightly, and in being love you are in affinity and merge with what you perceive, becoming one with it in being and purpose. That is what being selfless is: you erase the self (the part that is in self-interest and self-importance) and merge with others and sentient life around you. And when you are united with God in will, you may wield the power of love to transmute what acts as hindrance in this world.

The path of enlightenment for our day is one wherein we continually surrender to what presents itself to us in life...and actively open ourselves to deeper understanding that comes from spiritual revelation. As we do this, we harmonize with the impulses of creation and become attuned and receptive to the mind of God...we make ourselves passive in order to become receptive, rather than always quick to pass judgment and interpret the world around us from the small separated self. Steiner explains that in passivity/receptivity, a (world) soul process can now enter us from without and be taken hold of by an unconscious inner soul process, so that the two overlap. Cosmic thought can enter from without, the human will works outward from within, and the two overlap at a crossing point where objective soul element (Soul of the World) meets with subjective soul element within. This is how we awaken the Divine Feminine—through making space within to meet the objective wisdom-will of the World Soul, our own will becomes quickened to heightened divine awareness. It is through recognizing the Divine Feminine that we allow Her to be Presence once again. This happens in us, and we incarnate greater divine power as a result.

In the past, the outer soul process was in the air, now it must be received in the will faculty. Evolution always proceeds by internalizing soul/spirit elements that are external to us. We must now behold the soul of the world in the ruling wisdom-will by inwardly attuning our perception and will forces such that we surrender to revelation. This is how the consciousness soul evolves. We need to cultivate this new path of uniting (new yoga) so that we are aware that in all we see and hear—with every perception, cognition and tone—a soul-spiritual element flows into us, while at the same time we send a soul element flowing out into the world. This is how we unite as soul beings with the deeper spiritual reality behind matter. This is our task if we are to be in synchrony with the evolutionary impulses of our time.

This process is achieved through the practice of vertical-awaring and active perception that we've worked with in this program. As you keep doing these practices, you will find that what was once concealed to you now becomes revealed. As many of you are experiencing, dysfunction and hidden programs of the past are now becoming clear to you—that is a form of spiritual revelation. Another form is receiving deeper insight and understanding about in life in general. And another form comes by way of producing far more light-filled creations (it may be a book, a play, an invention, a musical composition, a project or product, etc.)

Second Aspect of Will Yoga ~ Recovering the Soul of the World Through Service and Community

In Encounters with Babaji, after having spent years under Babaji's guidance and then back home in Germany, the author writes to Babaji and says that she is having a Tibetan priest in to teach a process of increasing one's energy in the Crown in order to ensure reaching the highest realm of spirit upon one's transition. Babaji writes back that she need never come back and to never write again! At the same time she receives a letter from a friend who says that Babaji also 'sang' that she was one with the Buddha...one with God. She is devastated in one way, but then realizes the deeper message. Her training with Babaji had already achieved her union with God, but her focus on where she ends up after she transitions is NOT relevant to the times.

The times are such that we are here to serve, *“without concern with how one successfully leaves one's body to attain the highest, but concerned only with serving in the here and now, with Karma Yoga! Serving creation, serving your fellow men, nature, everything. With the continuous repetition of the name of God in your heart.”*⁵

The Second Coming is about serving the brotherhood—empowering the forces of our body of love (etheric) in service to humanity and all of creation. This is the meaning of, “When two or more are gathered in my name.” When you gather as a force of love with others, you serve a higher purpose than personal evolution. The Christ does not come for the one, but for all of humanity and all of creation.

The above underscores the importance of consecrating all your healing efforts for the good of all. Heal yourself in order that you become a force of harmony and love in the world, rather than to make your life easier. Heal yourself so that you are no longer exuding toxic substance into the world ether and astrality for everyone to have to deal with. Heal yourself so that you can awaken to your purpose and serve creation as your soul intended. Heal yourself so that you can become a light unto the world, as is the covenant with Father/Mother God.

Babaji came at the time (1980s) to give his body as substance to birth a new spiritual creation. He has been described as holding the office of the microcosmic Christ and in continual communion with the macrocosmic Christ.¹ He taught that the path at this time was simple: Serve humanity in devotion, with the name of God continually in your heart. He also taught to air out differences with the intention of seeking truth, rather than holding things back and judging and harbouring resentment. His manner provoked the ego in many, and this was done deliberately to help them purify so that they could have God in their hearts.

"Try to do more than you believe to be possible.
Be prepared to do any kind of work.
While you are working, have always God's name in yourself.
Work until your last breath.
A lazy man is a dead man.
Work, and become light!"

"In this time at the end of the Kali Yuga the gateways to heaven are only open for the Karma Yogis. The way of action will lead you into freedom." Babaji

Awakening the Divine Feminine in the world is not about female versus male power. It is about tending to and caring for this whole vibrational realm—the planetary body, the cosmos, and all beings within it including humanity, angels and beyond, nature spirits, elementals, animals, etc. It is about becoming in body, the womb of creation—a gentle, benevolent, and nurturing presence for the good of all. The Divine Feminine Trinity consists of the following three aspects:

Mother of Creation—the great ecosystem that is the whole vibrational realm. “Gaia” is the aspect of the Mother on planet earth—the Mother is God in the whole vibrational universe, and we must recognize our relationship to the whole.

Daughter Wisdom – Holy Isis/Sophia – the being that stands behind the wisdom-will of the world, which is the intelligent substance that causes things to be birthed into form and to transition out of form. The Daughter is the Keeper of God’s Wisdom that can guide the actions of men in accordance with Higher Will in the arena of life.

Holy Soul – this is an equivalent to the Holy Spirit at a soul level. The vibrational arena is the realm of soul. The Holy Soul is higher consciousness that may incarnate in humanity when two or more are gathered in communion...community...in the name of love. In the presence of the Holy Soul, all things are possible.

We support the re-emergence of the Divine Feminine, which is necessary at this time in evolution, when we enter into harmony and reciprocity with all of creation (honor the Mother), when we seek spirit in all the world and life processes around us (allow Wisdom to be revealed), and when we enter into selflessness and communion with our brothers and sisters, recognizing that the order of the day is not to ‘save our skin’, but to support awakening for all (being receptive to the Holy Soul).

The Christ mission has as task to reawaken the Divine Feminine in the world. Only with the Divine Feminine can we elevate our bodies and minds from the density and stupor that they have succumbed to. Only with the Christ power that activates on selflessness and devotion to all can we transmute the density of this realm and ensure a viable future for humanity and better outcomes for creation.

These things must become clear to more and more people at this time, because many have come to support this movement in unique ways, and there are few world teachers able to remind us. We must remember of our own effort and free will. You will remember as you immerse in these teachings and use them as guiding principles to lead you deeply within. My mission is not your mission; though we share in the state of the world, we each have something unique to offer toward resolution.

Karma Yoga

Babaji said many things near the end of his sojourn on earth in 1984. He was very clear that the path to 'heaven' is:

- 1- Forward, through spiritualizing matter, which means to bring light into matter and illuminate darkness. We are expanding creation and heaven is within.
- 2- In service to others, as our future is secured through our ability to unite in Oneness of being (in our god nature).
- 3- Through karma yoga—yoga of action in the arena of life. However, this was not about securing our own salvation through clearing personal karma, but through continually elevating everything one meets in the world in support of clearing world karma.

His years embodied on earth exemplified this path, as he continually took on the wounding of those who were prepared to surrender their lower nature, and transmuted it through his body by the power of love. He died by absorbing the horrors of the A-bomb on Hiroshima and sacrificed his body to the earth—this produced a new substance out of which the new spiritual creation will be birthed. He embodied the One and left us this message:

*"I am everywhere.
I am in your every breath.
I am the mirror in which you can see yourself.
I am Bhole Baba, the father, who is simple.
I have come to help you, to guide you. Place your burden at my feet.
I will carry your burden."⁶*

(..'the father, who is simple', means the father who is love, which implies that He is attainable to all alike, and not only to those who are learned or wise or have power. We reach the father through our love, and all have that capacity.)

We have but to surrender the lower and a higher order will be established in being. The process of vertical-awaring carries such power because you place your burdens at the feet of the 'Father, who is simple', through surrendering in the Heart. The Heart is simple. “Place your burden at my feet. I will carry your burden” He promises. Have faith and it will come to pass. Do not despair of when, but remain unwavering in your faith. You will be surprised a few days later when you notice that something has shifted, or you will have a dream in which you behave in a new way and know that you have been released! And when you have had your burdens lifted to a degree that you can bear the burdens of others, do not hesitate to do so—enter into their story inwardly and flow the consciousness and love to transmute it for them. The ‘bearer of burdens’ is the Christ, and His Presence will be with you as you do this. This is how you cultivate the Presence, how you unfold the Christ impulse as a healing force in the world, and how you become a light in the world.

* * * * *

“When human beings enter this world, they forget their duties and they fall in attachment to the illusions of the material world, they fall into “I” and “mine” and thus they forget God.”⁷

We must move into the consciousness of “I AM”, which translates to “we” and “ours” in the arena of life. The world is “ours”. God’s abundance is “ours”, that “we” may all live in dignity and free of cares!

Babaji gave these words soon before he died:

*“Love all mankind!
Help all living beings!
Be happy, be polite!
Be a source of inexhaustible joy!
Recognize God and the good in every face!
No saint is without a past,
No sinner without a future.
Speak well of everyone!
If you can’t find praise fro someone,
Then let him go out of your life!
Be original! Be inventive!
Be brave! Take courage! – time and again.
Don’t imitate others! Be strong! Be upright!
Don’t lean yourself on others as crutches!
Think with your own head!
BE YOURSELF!
All the perfection and virtue of God are hidden within you—reveal them!
Wisdom is also already in you—give it to the world!
Let God’s grace make you free!
Let your life be that of a rose,
Silently she speaks the language of fragrance.”⁸*

Communion with Others as an Emancipated Individuality

I would like to emphasize the words “don’t imitate others’ and “BE YOURSELF!” in the above verse. There are many movements toward conscious evolution that attempt to organize people into groups and ‘cells’ to elevate consciousness. The path to awakening is a personal one between you and God. People can point you in the direction of sound spiritual principle and ways to achieve this, but your role in creation is unique and only you can discover that as your personal relationship with God unfolds.

While being yourself and standing in your individual god-nature is essential, this does not mean you have to do it alone! In fact, this time in our evolution demands that we come together in soul community because greater power of love must be exerted in all aspects of life in this realm, and the greater power can only come ‘where two or three are gathered in my name’. This is not a contradiction of the importance of individuality—you must stand within as emancipated being in union with God and serving only the One Master, while also standing alongside others and moving toward a common vision that encompasses far larger concerns than the personal self. As you stand firm in your individuality and honor free will, you will demand this of others through your being—this is how synergies are made possible.

Standing firm in your individuality does not mean that you are not quietly receptive to higher wisdom through others. It does mean, however, that you take things in deeply to see how they might resonate within your being. The only true ‘guru’ of our time is the Christ within, but this does not mean that you cannot benefit from the teachings of others; rather it means you must make it deeply your own. Others can only give you indications from their experience, while the Christ can give you a direct experience through Presence. And this presence will manifest in you as you make the space within, through contemplation that will allow these spiritual principles to unfold.

Consider that geese flying in formation can fly about 70% farther and at a significantly faster speed than they could alone. And the ‘leader’ in the “V” formation is the one to cut the wind so that there is much greater ease for those behind. By flying in a “V”, each goose behind another gets an updraft that makes it easier to fly. When a goose falls out of formation, it suddenly feels the drag and resistance of flying alone, and quickly moves back into formation to take advantage of the lifting power of the bird immediately in front of it. The geese take turns being the leader. When the lead goose tires, it rotates back into the formation and another goose flies to the point position. That said, some may not be able to take the lead and they are supported and able to migrate with the others nonetheless. And in time they too will take the lead. The geese at the back also honk to encourage the ones at the lead. We all do what we can to the degree of our awakening.

When we isolate ourselves and ‘go it alone’, life is far more difficult than it need be. Moreover, we cannot unfold our potential in isolation. Our potential unfolds as we recognize increasingly our value to the world. Without the mirroring of our value from the world, we would have no sense of affirmation for the directions we take. As the world ‘receives’ our value, it provides a field of support and encouragement for us to unfold even greater value still. The Master Jesus said after preaching to a hostile crowd in his hometown, “Where I am not recognized I am not needed.” And he quickly withdrew and went to those who recognized his value. As his message was received by many, each who received it helped him to uncover greater power still to reach even more people; moreover, all were quickened to awakening by receiving the teachings. We all play a part through expressing and recognizing value in the world.

In community of like souls you will find your purpose and your true voice, and you will flourish. And as you express value in the world, others who you were meant to touch will be ignited to expression of their value. As you come together in soul community with a higher purpose, and allow the Holy Soul to descend among you, great power and momentum will be unleashed to manifest the common vision and greater still. The time is ripe for conscientious groups that will revolutionize the world in many ways through powerful inner transformation that occurs through gathering in the name of higher purpose and love. It does not matter what specific endeavours are undertaken, love will work its power in the most perfect way. And all involved will be making a direct contribution to the higher order reality that is in formation at present. See yourself as part of something larger, hold highest intentions of love, then become industrious and tireless in your efforts, and you will become increasingly light-filled and joyous, because Father and Mother God will be uniting within your being through the power of the Christ.

The Golden Rule as Path to the Father and Mother God

"'Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength and with all your mind'; and, 'Love your neighbour as yourself.'"

Luke 10:27

The path to the Father is through the directive to love God with all your strength, while the path to the Mother is through the directive to love your neighbour as yourself. These aspects of the golden rule may now be understood in greater depth.

The realm of the Mother is the one where spirit has been individualized into the separated selves. The vibrational realm of creation emerged from the process of God pouring himself out as individuated sparks of consciousness (His Children) and flowing aspects of Himself into creation. We will wield the power of the One through uniting as a brotherhood—re-mem-bering the separated sparks into the one body of humanity and operating within the vast ecosystem that is the body of the Great Mother.

The hallmark of the Christ is that He came for All alike—his power of love is the unifying power necessary to restore the Mother to full visibility in this realm. He first established himself in the Father (“I and the Father are one”) in order to have the power to recover the Mother, which he did by his descent into the earth at the mystery of Golgotha. The mystery of the Christ deed will need be understood increasingly in the years to come, if we are to wield the power necessary to establish our future.

As mentioned in the section on the Second Coming, the Christ first descended into 'hell' ...into the sub-layers of the earth in order to seed within the planet the power to overcome the darkness, and this power was simultaneously seeded within our bodies. Our bodies and the planetary body are really one reality. If we are to save the planet, we must save our bodies. (This will be the focus of the next RHS program). And then He returned to the Father and prepared for these momentous times, where He would support human beings to rise up out of the chaos and illusion through their own free will. And so we find ourselves facing the task of becoming free in our will.

Love God With All Your Heart, Mind, and Soul

The directive to love God with all your might is about rooting your self in the truth of being, which alone can seek union...and this union can only be quested after or approximated in human form. Our passionate yearning is to be exclusively given to God.

The translation to 'love' was from the ancient Hebrew word 'ahav', which apparently was not really a word but imitated the sound of heavy, passionate panting (from sighing, longing, breathing after someone). It signifies the most intimate aspects of loving someone. God created you to be in relationship with Him—only in relationship is the experience of love possible. God wishes for deepest intimacy with you, and that is what this directive speaks to. It is not so much a command as it is a statement that captures the gift of intimate union that we may attain to. This is what we were created for...

Self Love is Foundational to True Self

Many who have been wounded in various ways feel less than others...they do not feel the nobility of their human nature. This is the root of all inequity. Gandhi stated that if he could choose his next incarnation, let it be as an 'untouchable' (lowest caste in India) so that he could elevate their consciousness to self-love and return to God his lost children.

When you do not have self-love, you put others on a pedestal and reinforce the false world of inequity. The Master said, "What you do to the least of your brothers you do to me." This is because we are One in our god-nature that is the key to achieving the goal of humanity of becoming the co-creators of Love and Freedom.

What we do to ourselves or to others we do to all. It does not matter if you put yourself below or above others—you are still participating in inequity and judgment, which is the root of all the ills in the world.

When you put others on a pedestal because of low self-worth, you create a rift of unattainability and will live in jealousy, resentment, and separation. Moreover, you encourage false pride in the world, and you will never know the unique divine spark that is within you (or others for that matter), and creation will be impoverished. Release the delusion and courageously and boldly explore your worthiness. There is support for all who choose to break free of the old patterns!

You may admire and honor the attainment of others; but let it work upon you as a guide and inspiration toward what you may unfold within. Anyone who has attained something worthy of honoring will gladly flow inspiration to others.

Love Beyond Conditions is Foundational to True Self

It is easy to love and be of goodwill when everything is going smoothly in life; it is much harder when life seems to knock you down. Yet, when you can love in spite of the hardships, that is when you will know your true power. There is no other way to know yourself beyond conditions than to face hardships and be love within them. And the beauty is that those hardships will fall away, because you will dwell in a higher order of being through which love eventually flows as ordering power.

Drop all resistance to hardship and embrace it as blessing to know yourself more deeply. Drop all comparison to others and do not covet the ease in the lives of others. No one knows the path of another, and the ease you covet may be a sign of great blessing, a weak soul that has avoided challenge, or attainment through wrong means—you are not in a position to know nor is it your business to know. Your business is to accept and engage yourself in your own life. Your path is your life, not the life of another.

Love Your Enemy is Foundational to True Self

Jesus said, “Love your enemies if you would convince yourself that love is a power that comes from within.”⁹

If you cannot wish upon your enemy what you wish for yourself, you are not vibrationally in a position to receive that which you wish for. As you learn to love your enemy, you will see your hidden unconsciousness in the hook (that caused you to have an enemy), and you will realize just how life is a beneficent force of awakening. The moment you see this, you can choose to illuminate things fully and flow to your enemy what you thought you were lacking in the relationship, and all will be healed. Awakening leads to healing for all.

Illuminating yourself around ‘enemies’ affords the greatest growth—embrace the opportunity and soon you will see everyone in a different light. You will no longer seek ‘special’ friendship as a crutch or justification for your point of view or weakness, and all will be set free to be themselves. You will also be set free to be yourself, and God will have the space in you to flourish.

When we have ‘special’ friends, then we can also have enemies because we have something to defend. On the other hand, when we are truly free, then our friends are deep soul connections, and we will find true praise for them. And those that we cannot praise will leave our sphere of interaction.

Life is a gift in all ways—the hard times and the challenges are the specific lessons that we are blessed with.

When you love beyond past conditioning, beyond external conditions, and beyond those who reject or stand in your way, you “can discover the deeper wellspring of love that you are...Through love you have the power over any situation.”

However, love cannot be manipulated—if you love in order to change specific conditions you are conditional and not in true love. Love is unconditional—you are love because you love God. Loving God is being love.

* * * * *

Establish yourself in divine love, because it is prior cause—from love all was created.¹⁰ When you establish in first cause, you become the power of the universe.

Babaji has stated something that was also revealed to us in our work of 2011, that is, “One perfect being is enough to change the world. Rama, Krishna, Christ—were not many. Each of them was only one, but they changed the world. Buddha was only one, too, and he changed the world. I am telling you these things so that you won’t think that the number is important. One spark of light is enough to illuminate the world.”

And while God is not incarnating in the flesh as was the case with the Christ, the Master stated, “This you shall do and more”, because within us was seeded the power of divinity (the Christ) that would elevate the human being to Divine Child. We are called to seek that path to divinity at this time...to allow the seed to grow and to flourish, because of evolutionary necessity. Though the path be challenging, the support is great. And while you may not make it to ‘perfection’, your efforts will support others to go further because they serve to lift the heavy ‘collective veils’ that prevent wakefulness. We may all act as catalyst in order that there be sufficient human power to change the world. We must work with all of our might within whatever challenges—emotional, mental, physical, spiritual—we find ourselves in this present time.

Devote healing effort to self-love, to loving beyond conditions, and to loving your enemy, and you will establish your wholeness and love of the Father. Seek to perceive spirit in everything around you and consecrate all activity to God, and soon you will feel the Presence in you in the most perfect way for your soul’s awakening. In the Presence of God, all life becomes miraculous and operates under spiritual law. What has nothing whatsoever that may be affirmed spiritually is of no value to life and you should simply let it move out of your life—not from a place of judgment, but rather in recognition of your responsibility to support only what serves the increase of life.

“By honoring the Father as first love and first cause, you also strengthen the love in yourself to be the true cause of action. You are away from your point of power in any action not generated by love.”¹¹

Moving to first cause brings you to serving the one true Master exclusively, which is the only path toward unity and oneness. Our commitment to the path of unity will be the demise of the forces of chaos, because their power lies solely in division and separation—they have no light of their own and only draw from our energies that cannot enter the spiritual heights. So long as fear is kept alive, humanity is easily divided and will gladly give its power away to false promises (e.g. war on terrorism and our loss of rights to freedom); but when we stand courageously in the power of love no matter what, we will also find that infinite power begins to move through us and more will join in common vision and be able to attain to the spiritual creation that is the future of our world. In this manner we not only cut off the power source from the beings of chaos, but we access far greater spiritual power to reorder the structures of this world.

The old world is no longer being sustained; in other words, it will be left to its own demise under the forces of entropy. Consider all the time that we have to that inevitable occurrence as a grace period for many more to become awake and support their brothers and sisters to do likewise.

Love Thy Neighbour As Thyself

This directive, though it certainly emerges from the first, needs to be understood in its own right. To love God with all your might is to establish yourself in true self beyond time and space in order that you may enter into intimate union with God. To love your neighbour as yourself is to love God in the vibrational realm, i.e. it is to fulfil the work that will allow you to attain to intimacy with God. Loving your neighbour is to love and honor God as Mother of all the individuated aspects of God. In loving your neighbour as yourself, you live selflessly as ‘we’ rather than as ‘me’. Loving God is about remembering that you are spirit first and foremost whose destiny it is to be intimate with God; loving your neighbour is remembering that you are in this realm as individuated god-consciousness in order to expand creation. Loving your neighbour is caring for the Children of the Great Mother, and supporting the awakening of each being to their essence as love. When you serve others through love, you support their awakening to their God self, and thus you serve God and will eventually reach deepest intimacy and union.

When you love your neighbour as yourself, you are actively seeking God is all relationship. As stated above, you were created to be in relationship with God, because the experience of love is only possible in relationship. You may argue that you can have self-love, therefore love is possible outside of relationship—but in fact self-love is really love of God as yourself. You could not have self-love without being in relationship with God. And similarly, you could not love if you did not love yourself. So all love is possible only through love of God...and all ‘other’ is really self. There is only the One, and expressions and individuated aspects of the One.

The Great Mother has been cast into the lower vibrational levels (hell) by our collective selflessness and lack of love. Love gives of itself without conditions, whereas egotism seeks to get for itself as a separated entity from the whole. Egotism leads to death because it takes Source and puts those forces in service of illusion—there is no real separated self, and pursuing that path is a dead-end and a trap.

As discussed above, the Great Mother—the spirit and soul of the world—will be recovered only as we become selflessly devoted to the larger Self of the whole of humanity, and mindful of the vast ecosystem in which we live. This ecosystem spans all levels of our being and captures the intricate interdependence of all beings for their evolution. The evolution of one serves the evolution of all, and we are bound to agreements at a deeper level...

For example, our body elemental that is a highly evolved consciousness has agreed to be our 'consort' through all of our lifetimes, with the understanding that we would seek to become enchristed through our lifetimes. So as we pursue our rightful evolution, it too would be experiencing what it needs for its evolution. As our bodies have become increasingly denatured, our body elemental has become increasingly resentful and no longer a fully willing partner. The whole of nature along with the elemental beings await man as its master. As man was to become master over nature, nature would be guided to serve man more actively, which would support its own evolution. Since that has not happened (except for a few rare cases like biodynamic farming, the Findhorn community, and several other endeavours), much of the elemental force has fallen under the power of chaos and that is why we are witnessing frequent calamities on earth. The planet cannot withstand any more abuses and she will be allowed to go into a period of deep recovery at some point.

Tenacity in our Spiritual Quest to Unite Father and Mother God

We can only unite Father and Mother God and manifest the Kingdom through fulfilling the divine covenant. It is critical that we understand and strive toward this now. We would be fully supported in all ways to experience the tremendous gift of life, so long as we acted as a light unto the world. But we have forgotten that God is the Source of all of our good, and have created false structures as our new gods, and have dedicated our lives to those. We sell our souls for money and recognition, and serve others or false ideologies that we believe are cause for our security and worthiness. To the extent that we remain in these delusions will we be unable to tap into infinite abundance, prosperity, health, love, and genius. And to that extent is our way barred from the spiritual creation or higher order reality that is being birthed presently.

It is not that the way is barred by spirit—the ever present way is in consciousness, and that lies within our agency. Spirit can no longer 'think in us' without our asking. And our asking must take the form of unrelenting petitioning from a place of passionate yearning. Giving up is evidence of lack of yearning, whereas infinite patience and continual renewal of faith will get you to the path of truth.

In Encounters with Babaji, he is asked if he will come back again. His reply is something to the effect, "If anyone calls me as tenaciously as Shastriji has, then I will be back." He came upon being petitioned day and night by Shastriji, one of his disciples. In Diary of a Yogi, Yogananda describes how we have to petition God like a crying infant that will not be soothed by anyone other than its mother. He relates a story of having done this and Babaji materializing to him with a message from God confirming his mission in America. The Buddha found the way to enlightenment through his decision to not move until he experienced union with God. We have to demonstrate tenacity and single-mindedness in our desire to unite with God, because that alone carries the power to pierce through the noisy chaos that clouds this realm from spirit.

Many people will say, “well I tried praying and that didn’t work”. But we must never stop petitioning for what cannot be sated by anything other than spirit. How easily most of us are distracted by the passing things in life...how easily we give up! Become clear within on what can only be satisfied through union with God, and keep that quest active and unrelenting—through action, prayer, and inner transformation. Know that all of your true and passionate pleas are heard. And though you may not see evidence of it right away, know that your ardent pleas are mobilizing things at subtle levels before they become visible in the physical.

The Way to the Father is through freedom within—and in freedom will we discover the infinite source. We must detach from conditions and perceive the world around us as arising from our consciousness. We must live within and see everything as arising from that depth of being that bypasses the small personal self. We become the impersonal self. This is vertical-awaring and relates to the vertical axis of the cross of man (not the crucifixion cross, but the rose-cross with equal vertical and horizontal axes).

The Way to the Mother is through service without—in selfless devotion to something larger than the personal self we will discover the source of eternal life. We must give up selfish desire and sense of separation, and consecrate our life in service to the brotherhood of humanity and the good of all sentient life. This relates to the horizontal axis of the cross of man, and establishes our field of interaction within the great vibrational realm. As this occurs, we gain mastery over the means of life and wield the power to order and elevate consciousness around us. We become the light of the world.

When we are vertically anchored in true self within, and horizontally spread out in consciousness as an ordering power of love, then all that we create is for eternity...we partake of the creation of worlds, and our smiling Heart causes joy through creation. As we increase in divine power and presence, all that we are and do has significance in ways that we cannot yet fathom. Within each human being there lies this potential through the Christ impulse that weaves in our thinking, feeling, and willing. (This imagination is captured in the audio meditation on the Cross of Light.)

And so the Master gave us these two directives: 1- to love God with all our might in order to find the Father within, and 2- to love our neighbour as ourself as the path to reviving the Mother without. And through the Christ (living love and Heart-centeredness) we unite these powers within our being so that we may partake of world creation.

The great shift presently is a synchronization and attunement with the cosmos, and what is out of sync will be undone. Father and Mother God will not be severed from one another any further. We may each partake actively in this process and are all called to do so at this time. What one leaves undone is a burden to all; however, there is also a rule,

“One for all”¹², which expresses that healing can be done by one on behalf of others. As you disengage increasingly from your personal story, you will be able to take up the selfless task of healing for others. The Christ did this for all of humanity, Babaji did this around the grave travesty of the A-bomb, and we must follow their example as we awaken more deeply.

The path for these urgent times may be summarized as follows:

- Live in ever deeper truth—seeking to pierce through the veils so that spirit may be revealed and find expression in this realm.
- Live in ever greater non-attachment—through freedom your spiritual power increases dramatically. In non-attachment all of your power can be directed toward forward evolution. Those in freedom will rise up as the co-creators of the new creation.
- Live in selfless service—seeking to do more than you thought possible for the good of all (will-yoga)—not as a martyr to others but in support of Father/Mother God reclaiming dominion over the forces of chaos on this realm.
- Live in ever greater mastery over thinking, feeling, and will, so that you are a benevolent ordering power by how you perceive and what you speak into the world.
- Live with the name of God in your mind and heart at all times—in uniting with God in this manner, the divine powers that can support humanity to a higher order of being will work through you.

As you deepen your ‘vertical’ connection to spirit within, you expand in power and impact in the vibrational realm (‘horizontal’ impact) and the Christ will reach you and you will be lifted up into greater awakening.

Remember that when we do not follow the evolutionary impulses for our time, we become a force of devolution in the world. More and more, those who have their pulse on the times are saying the same thing, that is, that we are either supporting the divine plan or we are hindering it; there is no standing still anymore. You do not have to be perfect, but you have to be striving for greater mindfulness.

Part 2 of week 6 will discuss the revelation about the money system, and how to align with divine abundance and prosperity at this time, in a manner that has the potential to heal the world.

The path from this point forward is to deepen in surrendering the small false self and uniting ever more completely in the mind and heart of God, so that you may follow the path of will-yoga and partake of the great shift in consciousness and create the bridge for all to the higher order reality that is within our reach presently. All that we do at this time has significance for planetary and cosmic evolution—it is time to establish this new future now.

The exercises for week 6 will support you to attain all that was presented in this section of the program, and will lead you to becoming an active co-creator of the new creation that is presented as our possible future.

Appendix A ~ Prayers to the Mother

Prayer to the Mother¹³

*Our Mother, thou who art in the darkness of the underworld,
May the holiness of thy name shine anew in our remembering.
May the breath of thy awakening kingdom warm the hearts of all who wander homeless.
May the resurrection of thy will renew eternal faith even unto the depths of physical substance.
Receive this day the living memory of thee from human hearts,
Who implore thee to forgive the sin of forgetting thee,
And who are ready to fight against temptation which has led thee to existence in darkness.
That through the deed of the Son the immeasurable pain of the Father be stilled.,
By the liberation of all beings from the tragedy of thy withdrawal.
For thine is the homeland and the boundless wisdom, and the all merciful grace,
For all and everything in the circle of all.
Amen*

The Lord's Prayer Augmented with Remembering the Mother

Our Father who art in Heaven and Our Mother who art in the Earth Hallowed be thy Name!

*Thy Kingdom come through the harmony of our being within (true self) and our passionate yearning for intimacy with you Oh Father,
And through the harmony of our being without (ecosystem) and our love for the separated selves in your care Oh Mother.*

Thy Will be done on earth as it is in Heaven —through our devotion and selfless service to Light, Love, and Life in freedom.

Give us this day our daily bread, and open us to receiving it through the release of attachment to the false sources of riches and security, our surrender of all fear, and our growing ability to be a light in the world— serving the increase of life and the enrichment of the world.

Forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us, so that we may enter into true communion and community in service to Living Love, through the growing realization of ourselves as One.

And lead us away from temptation that we may recognize, perceive, and awaken the eternal Mother in the world, withdraw all of our energy away from the forces of chaos that imprison Her, and long only for Your Presence in us, Oh Father.

And deliver us from evil that is hindrance to the Divine Plan, that we may fulfil our covenant as the Children of God.

Amen!
